- (b) Where the Company is liable to a Member under these Rules and/or the Bye-Laws (as appropriate), other than for failing to provide services with reasonable skill and care, the Company's liability is limited to the total subscription fee paid by that Member for the current membership year, except where Rule 26(c) applies.

- 29.3 If a court finds any part of these Rules and/or the Bye-Laws illegal, the rest will continue in force. Each of the paragraphs of these Rules and the Bye-laws operate separately. If any court or relevant authority decides that any of them are unlawful, the remaining paragraphs will remain in full force and effect.
- 29.4 Even if the Company delays in enforcing this contract (which incorporates these Rules and the Bye-laws), it can still enforce it later. If the Company does not insist immediately that a Member does anything it is required to do under these Rules and/or the Bye-laws, or if the Company delays in taking steps against a Member in respect of its breaking these Rules and/or the Bye-laws, that will not mean that the Member does not have to do those things and it will not prevent the Company taking steps against that Member at a later date. For example, if a Member misses a payment and the Company does not chase that Member but continues to allow that Member access to the Club, the Company can still require that Member to make the payment at a later date.
- 29.5 These Rules and the Bye-Laws are governed by English law and a Member can bring legal proceedings in respect of the services of the Club in the English courts. If a Member lives in Scotland such Member can bring legal proceedings in respect of the services of the Club in either the Scottish or the English courts. The Company may make bye-laws for the regulation and management of the Club ("Bye-Laws") and may amend or revoke any Bye-laws so made; but no Bye-law shall be inconsistent with these Rules. In the event of any ambiguity or conflict arising between the terms of these Rules and the Bye-laws, the terms of these Rules shall prevail.
